Introduction

This Supplier Code of Conduct is an extension of the Wagner Die Supply Code of Ethics. This Supplier Code establishes the standards for conducting business with WDS. WDS seeks out and expects that its suppliers use this Supplier Code as a guide for ethical, responsible, and legal business practices in their operations.

This Supplier Code does not alter any of the terms and conditions in applicable agreements, nor does it create contractual rights for suppliers or others. WDS will update this Supplier Code periodically and will expect suppliers to stay current.

“Supplier Code” means this Supplier Code of Conduct. “Suppliers” or “you” means any company, corporation, or other entity or person that sells, or seeks to sell, goods or services to WDS, including the supplier’s employees, other workers, representatives, agents, subcontractors, and other sub-tier sources.

COMPLY WITH APPLICABLE LAWS, RULES, AND REGULATIONS

Each supplier must comply with all laws and regulations applicable to its business in the countries where it does business. While laws, regulations, business practices, and customs can vary greatly from one country to the next, this Supplier Code sets forth the minimum requirements that all of WDS's suppliers must meet.

A. Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption

Offering or paying bribes or anything of value to win business or obtain an unfair advantage is unacceptable, even if business is lost or difficulties are encountered as a result (for example, delays in obtaining permits or licenses). Bribes and other corrupt payments may violate multiple anti-corruption laws and expose individuals, WDS's suppliers, and WDS to civil and criminal liability and severe penalties. Violations could also result in the loss of future government contracts. WDS's suppliers are prohibited from engaging in corruption, extortion, or embezzlement in any form.

Examples of Red Flags

- Offers of extravagant or multiple gifts or entertainment
- Third parties who do not clearly account for their expenditures or whose commissions seem in excess of the services provided
- Customers or officials who hint or suggest that certain payments be made to obtain business or information
- A request that a third party make a payment to an official to expedite the handling of a matter such as customs clearance

B. Gifts, Entertainment, and Hospitality

WDS's suppliers are required to understand and comply with this Supplier Code and the law when offering or accepting any gifts, favors, meals, entertainment, or hospitality to or from WDS employees, customers, or other business partners or their family members. Any such gift, entertainment, or hospitality must be consistent with customary regional business practices and the recipient's policies—and it must not adversely affect the reputation of WDS or the supplier if publicly disclosed. In addition, WDS's suppliers must not create or give the appearance of a conflict of interest when engaging in these practices.

Examples of Red Flags

- Gifts or entertainment involving a government official
- Gifts or entertainment of more than nominal value
- Gifts or entertainment of any value offered to a WDS employee in a position to make a decision about the gift giver
- Inappropriate gifts such as cash
- Gifts or entertainment offered during a tender process

C. Global Trade Compliance

WDS's suppliers are required to comply with all applicable international trade laws and regulations, including import, export, and re-export controls regulations, as well as applicable embargoes, sanctions, and anti-boycott laws.

Examples of Red Flags

- Suppliers who attempt to provide lower value invoice totals with imports to lower duties owed on imported goods or who misclassify goods on invoices to avoid antidumping duties
- Suppliers who transship products to hide actual country of origin or content that would be subject to importing country restrictions or sanctions

D. Fair Dealing and Competition Laws

WDS succeeds by competing fairly and dealing truthfully with customers and business partners, without manipulation or concealment. WDS's suppliers are required to uphold fair business standards in advertising, sales, and competition. WDS's suppliers are required to comply with applicable antitrust and competition laws where they do business. These laws prohibit agreements between competitors that affect prices, costs, terms or conditions of sale, the markets in which they will compete, or customers or suppliers with whom they will do business. These laws may also regulate distribution agreements, rebates, discounts, or territorial restrictions on resellers.

Examples of Red Flags

- Any competitor who attempts to discuss competitive information such as pricing, bids, sales, or territories
- Discussions at trade associations, meetings, or events where competitors are in attendance which relate to prices, markets, profits, or other topics that could be of interest to competitors

E. Conflicts of Interest

WDS's suppliers must avoid involvement in actual or apparent conflicts of interest between the supplier's interests and the interests of WDS. Any actual or apparent conflict of interest should be disclosed.

Examples of Red Flags

- A supplier employee has a second job at a current or potential competitor of WDS
- A supplier has a substantial ownership interest in a current or potential competitor of WDS (other than nominal investments in public companies)

F. Anti-Money Laundering Supplier Code of Conduct

WDS conducts business only with reputable suppliers involved in legitimate business activities using funds from legitimate sources. WDS's suppliers are required to comply with applicable laws relating to money laundering.

Examples of Red Flags

- Any proposed or actual payments in cash from a customer or partner
- Customers who overpay for goods or services, and then request a refund
- Any customer, supplier, agent, or partner who provides incomplete or suspicious information
- Funds paid to/from unusual sources or to/from countries not normally associated with the customer

G. Conflict Minerals

WDS's suppliers must cooperate in due diligence requests made by WDS with respect to the origin of intermediaries associated with the purchases of materials or products containing Conflict Minerals, whether or not those materials or products may have been mined or produced in the Covered Countries or obtained from recycled sources, in compliance with WDS's reporting requirements under the US Dodd-Frank Section 1502. Where specified in a purchase order or supply agreement, suppliers will comply with any WDS requirement to provide products, components, parts, and materials which are free of Conflict Minerals mined or produced in the Covered Countries in support of armed conflict in the region. See Conflict Minerals <https://enoughproject.org/special-topics/progress-and-challenges-conflict-minerals-facts-dodd-frank-1502> for more information.

"Conflict Minerals" are tin (Cassiterite), tungsten (Wolframite), tantalum (Columbite-tantalite or coltan), and gold, and the derivative metals from these minerals. The "Covered Countries" are the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Angola, Burundi, Central African Republic, The Republic of the Congo, Rwanda, South Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda, and Zambia.

H. Environment

WDS is committed to creating economic value for shareholders and customers through sustainable practices that protect the long-term well-being of the environment, WDS's employees, and the communities in which it operates. WDS's suppliers are required to comply with all applicable environmental laws, regulations, and standards and minimize any adverse impact on the environment. WDS's suppliers must also endeavor to conserve natural resources and energy and reduce or eliminate waste and the use of hazardous substances.

I. Inside Information

You must not share any information regarding WDS organizational plans with other companies if you possess inside information that is not available to the public which could influence business decisions for acquisitions, selling and or mergers (for example information about winning or losing a contract). You also cannot give inside information to others who might use it unethically.

PROTECT WDS'S ASSETS, INFORMATION, AND REPUTATION

WDS's suppliers are required to preserve, protect, and responsibly use WDS property that they have access to, and protect it from theft, damage, loss, and misuse. This includes physical and intangible assets such as ideas, innovations, technology, brands, and confidential information.

A. Intellectual Property Supplier Code of Conduct

Suppliers are required to respect intellectual property rights, both during their contract with WDS and thereafter. Patents, copyrights, and trademarks belonging to others may not be used without express permission from the owner. Any transfer or sharing of technology or know-how must be done on a need-to-know basis and in a manner that protects intellectual property rights and is in compliance with local law.

B. Confidential Information, Data Security, and Privacy

Suppliers are required to safeguard WDS's proprietary and confidential information, which includes all information, whether written or oral, that WDS has a legitimate business interest in protecting. This includes technical, design or process data, improvements, new products, products in development, inventions, models, manuals, know-how, financial data, pricing information, business development or acquisition plans, marketing plans, project practices, and customer and supplier lists.

Suppliers are required to follow all applicable privacy laws that govern the handling of information and data provided by WDS, which may include private and sensitive personal information.

Examples of Red Flags

- Inadvertent disclosure of confidential information in external meetings
- Unattended or unprotected computers or mobile devices that contain WDS proprietary and confidential information
- Requests for data from questionable sources
- Non-transparent subcontracting by suppliers of data processing and cloud computing
- Using WDS's proprietary or confidential information beyond the scope of the engagement or for the supplier's or other's benefit

C. Records Management and Cooperation with Inspections, Audits, and Investigations

Suppliers must retain documents and records in accordance with applicable law, including accounts, quality reports, time records, expense reports, and submissions to WDS, regulatory authorities, or others. This also includes documentation necessary to demonstrate compliance with law and this Supplier Code or relevant to any pending litigation, an audit, or investigation. Examples of Red Flags

- Failure to follow applicable safety regulations or policies

- Workers using, possessing, or being under the influence of alcohol, illegal drugs, or any substance that could interfere with safely performing their work
- Providing worker accommodations that are not clean, safe, or meet basic needs
- Failing to adhere to product safety and quality requirements

B. Ethical Employment Practices and Non- Discrimination Policy

WDS recognizes the value of diverse skills, ideas, and backgrounds, and requires its suppliers' workplaces to be professional and free from discrimination, harassment, and abuse. Each supplier must, in relation to employees, other workers, and applicants for employment, as applicable:
